

Illegal Immigration

OPENING FRAME → START HERE

Compassion and the rule of law are not enemies. Ordered, legal immigration strengthens a nation; lawlessness harms citizens and migrants alike.

DEBATE PATH

- 1 Rule of law: God-ordained government requires enforceable borders and laws (Rom 13; Acts 17:26).
- ↓
- 2 Stewardship: Nations must prioritize citizens' welfare, capacity, and security.
- ↓
- 3 Justice: Skipping the line punishes those who wait and sacrifice to come legally.
- ↓
- 4 Security: Open borders empower cartels, trafficking, and unvetted threats.
- ↓
- 5 Assimilation: Manageable legal flows allow newcomers to join one people under shared laws.

COUNTERS

THEY SAY
"Jesus was a refugee"

YOU SAY
His family fled to Egypt under the laws of that time and returned when safe — not a case for ignoring immigration law.

THEY SAY
"We're all immigrants"

YOU SAY
Most ancestors came under the laws then in force. Lawful heritage doesn't erase today's need for borders.

THEY SAY
"They do jobs Americans won't"

YOU SAY
Use legal guest-worker paths. Labor needs don't require nullifying sovereignty.

"Enforcement is cruel"

YOU SAY
Cruelty is chaos: trafficking, wage suppression, and deaths at the border. Clear laws + dignity in enforcement.

CLOSE → → Frame: generous legal immigration + real enforcement. Love and law together.
